- 2. VIOLATION OF CALIFORNIA UNFAIR COMPETITION LAW [BUS. & PROF. CODE §§ 17200, et seq.]
- 3. VIOLATION OF CALIFORNIA FALSE ADVERTISING LAW [BUS & PROF. CODE §§ 17500, et seq.]
- 4. BREACH OF EXPRESS WARRANTY

DEMAND FOR JURY TRIAL

1 Plaintiff, on behalf of himself, all others similarly situated, and the general
2 public (“Plaintiff”), alleges against Defendant Heel, Inc. (“Heel” or “Defendant”)
3 the following upon his own knowledge, or where there is no personal knowledge, 4 upon information and belief and the investigation of his counsel:

5 JURISDICTION AND VENUE

6 1. This Court has original jurisdiction pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §
7 1332(d)(2)(A), as amended by the Class Action Fairness Act of 2005, because the 8 matter in controversy, exclusive of interest and costs, exceeds the sum or value of 9 $5,000,000.00 and is a class action where Plaintiff, a member of the class, is from 10 a different state than Defendant. On information and belief, more than two-thirds 11 of the members of the class are citizens of a state different from the Defendant.
12 This Court also has original jurisdiction over the federal claim under the 13 Magnuson-Moss Warranty Act pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1331. This Court has 14 supplemental jurisdiction over the state law claims pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1367.

15 2. Personal jurisdiction is derived from the fact that the Defendant
16 conducts business within the State of California and within this judicial district.

17 3. Venue is proper within this district pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1391(b)(2) 18 because many of the acts and transactions, including the purchases and sales giving 19 rise to this action, occurred in this district and because Defendant:

- 20 (i) is authorized to conduct business in this district and has 21 intentionally availed itself of the laws and markets within this 22 district through the promotion, marketing, distribution and sale
23 of its products in this district;
24 (ii) does substantial business in this district;
25 (iii) advertises to consumers residing in this district; and,
26 (iv) is subject to personal jurisdiction in this district.

1 THE PARTIES

2 4. At all times relevant to this matter, Plaintiff Robert A. Mason was a
3 resident of San Jacinto, California.

4 5. On information and belief, at all times relevant to this matter,
5 Defendant Heel, Incorporated is a New Mexico corporation that maintains its 6 principal place of business, corporate headquarters, and residence in New Mexico.

7 6. Members of the putative class reside in California.

8 7. Defendant is the manufacturer and seller of homeopathic products.

9 8. Defendant produces, markets, and sells homeopathic products
10 throughout the United States, including California.

11 9. Plaintiff is informed and believes and thereon alleges that at all times
12 herein mentioned the Defendant and Defendant's employees were the agents, 13 servants and employees of the Defendant, acting within the purpose and scope of 14 that agency and employment.

15 10. In addition to selling its Products on the shelf in major retail stores,
16 Defendant sells its Products directly to consumers online via its website, 17 HeelUSA.com, and product specific websites such as traumeel.us. Defendant also 18 distributes its Products to online third party retailers for sale directly to consumers 19 through online transactions.

20 BACKGROUND FACTS

21 11. Homeopathy seeks to stimulate the body's ability to heal itself by 22 giving very small doses of highly diluted substances. However, there is "little 23 evidence" that homeopathy is effective, much less that people understand
24 homeopathic dilution principles. See [nccam.nih.gov/sites/nccam.nih.gov/files/
25 homeopathy.pdf](http://nccam.nih.gov/sites/nccam.nih.gov/files/homeopathy.pdf).

26 12. Homeopathy is premised on two main principles; the principle of 27 similars and the principle of dilutions. Under the "principle of similars" a disease
28

1 can be cured by a substance that produces similar symptoms in healthy people. Id.
2 Thus, homeopathic drugs are intended to work by causing “aggravation,” or a 3 temporary worsening of symptoms initially, a fact that is not communicated to 4 consumers. See id.

5 13. Under the “principle of dilutions” the more diluted an ingredient is,
6 the more effective it becomes. Id. This is paradoxical, however, and contrary to 7 scientific principles, notably chemistry and physics. Id. Further, in highly diluted
8 remedies, there is a very low probability that even a single molecule of the original 9 substance is present in the product. For example, a level of 12C dilution is the 10 equivalent to a pinch of salt in both the North and South Atlantic Oceans. See
11 www.healthguidance.org/entry/12178/1/An-Introduction-to-Homeopathic-
12 Remedies.html (last visited Dec. 14, 2012).

13 14. Homeopathic remedies are not marketed and sold in the United States
14 in the same manner as when they first originated, approximately 200 years ago.
15 When homeopathic drugs first originated, people would typically consult with a 16 licensed homeopathic practitioner, who would compound his or her own
17 homeopathic remedy, or provide a prescription to the patient. Food and Drug 18 Administration (“FDA”) Compliance Policy Guide (“CPG”) § 400.400.

19 15. Also, historically, homeopathic drugs were not labeled and there was 20 no direct-to-consumer advertising. Id. Instead, homeopathic remedies were 21 primarily marketed to licensed homeopathic practitioners. Id.

22 16. There was good reason for this historical practice: Homeopathic 23 drugs are intended to be “‘individualized’ or tailored to each person—it is not 24 uncommon for different people with the same condition to receive different 25 treatments.” nccam.nih.gov/sites/nccam.nih.gov/files/homeopathy.pdf.

1 17. Now, however, one-size-fits-all, combination homeopathic remedies
2 are marketed directly to consumers in the over-the-counter (“OTC”) aisles of major
3 retail stores. CPG § 400.400.

4 18. “Today the homeopathic drug market has grown to become a
5 multimillion dollar industry in the United States, with a significant increase shown 6 in the importation and domestic marketing of homeopathic drug products.” Id.

7 19. Health care costs in the United States reached almost $2.6 trillion in 8 2010, with 10% of that amount spent on retail and prescription drugs.
9 www.kaiseredu.org/issue-modules/us-health-care-costs/background-brief.aspx.
10 But unless drug manufacturers disclose the complete truth to consumers, 11 consumers are unable to make informed decisions about where to spend their 12 limited healthcare dollars. See id.

13 20. Most consumers who purchase homeopathic drugs in the OTC aisles 14 of retail stores are unaware of homeopathic dilution principles, and are merely 15 seeking a natural alternative to prescription or other OTC non-homeopathic (i.e., 16 allopathic) drugs.

17 21. Accordingly, the homeopathic drug industry strives to market its 18 wares as natural, safe, and effective alternatives to prescription and non-19 homeopathic OTC drugs. But this latter category of drugs, which are all 20 allopathic, have undergone rigorous scrutiny by the FDA and its appointed 21 scientific committees.

22 22. In contrast, homeopathic drugs undergo no FDA approval of efficacy
23 or labeling claims. See labels.fda.gov/.

24 23. Indeed, the FDA, itself, has publicly stated that it is aware of no
25 scientific evidence that homeopathy is effective. See id.

26 24. Homeopathic drugs must comply with the minimal requirements set 27 forth in the CPG. But, the FDA has cautioned that compliance with the CPG, “the 28

1 HPUS, USP, or NF does not establish that [a homeopathic drug] has been shown
2 by appropriate means to be safe, effective, and not misbranded for its intended
3 use.” CPG § 400.400.

4 25. On August 26, 2011, the non-profit group, Center for Public Inquiry, 5 petitioned the FDA to require homeopathic drug manufacturers to undergo the 6 same efficacy requirements as other OTC products, and to label their drugs with a 7 disclaimer that states: “The FDA has not determined that this product is safe,
8 effective, and not misbranded for its intended use.” See Gallucci v. Boiron, Inc., 9 Case No. 3:11-CV-2039 JAH (S.D. Cal.), Dkt. No. 93-1 at p. 18.

10 26. As a result of other class action litigation, such as the Gallucci case, 11 supra, other homeopathic drug manufacturers have voluntarily agreed to 12 implement a FDA disclaimer similar to the one noted above, along with additional 13 injunctive relief, such as a dilution disclaimer and explanation of homeopathic
14 dilution for consumers. See, e.g., Gallucci, Dkt. No. 105 at pp. 13-15; Dkt. No.
15 125 at pp. 9-10. Thus, even those in the industry recognize a need to more 16 truthfully label homeopathic drugs for the average consumer. See id.

17 27. At some point during the class period, and as a result of the Gallucci
18 injunctive relief noted above, Defendant initiated a packaging change to its 19 homeopathic products, labeling them with the vague and ambiguous phrase, “The 20 [FDA] does not evaluate homeopathic products.” This disclaimer does not achieve 21 the same result as the Gallucci injunctive relief because it is not linked to any 22 efficacy statements on Defendant’s Products’ packaging, and does not discuss 23 dilution at all. Further, Defendant continues to market its Products with false or 24 deceptive advertising claims that are not addressed by the disclaimer, as more fully 25 described herein.

FACTS

2 28. This is a consumer protection class action lawsuit on behalf of 3 purchasers of Defendant’s homeopathic pain relief product lines named Traumeel
4 and Zeel (collectively, the “Products” or the “Pain Relief Products”).

5 29. Defendant manufactures, advertises, distributes and sells its Products
6 in OTC aisles in major retail stores throughout California.

7 30. Defendant primarily advertises and promotes its Pain Relief Products
8 through labeling claims on the front of the Products’ package. Label descriptions 9 on the Products’ packaging, taken as a whole, represent that there are various 10 benefits and characteristics to the Products. See Ex. 1 for photographs of 11 packaging.

12 31. Defendant’s advertising of its Pain Relief Products is also the subject
13 of an extensive and comprehensive marketing campaign in various media
14 including the Internet. See Ex. 2.

15 32. During the class period, Plaintiff was exposed to and saw Defendant’s
16 claims about Traumeel Gel, which claimed, inter alia, that the product was a 17 natural and effective remedy for pain relief.

18 33. During the class period, Plaintiff purchased Defendant’s Traumeel
19 Gel Product on various occasions at a GNC store in San Jacinto, California for 20 approximately $15.00 each purchase. Plaintiff is a consumer as described herein.

21 34. In purchasing Defendant’s Traumeel Gel Product, Plaintiff relied 22 upon various representations Defendant made on the Product’s label, including but 23 not limited to: “Doctor Recommended,” “Clinically Proven,” “Advanced Relief
24 for Muscular Pain & Inflammation,” “Proven Safe and Effective for Sports
25 Injuries, Sprains, Bruises,” “On The Spot Relief,” “Used By Doctors,” “Pain
26 Relief” for “Muscular Pain & Joint Pain,” “Anti-Inflammatory Analgesic,” 27
28

1 “Traumeel® consists of 14 natural ingredients,” and is “a safe, effective formula
2 used by doctors worldwide.” See Ex. 1.

3 35. Defendant’s Product did not work for Plaintiff as advertised.

4 THE PAIN RELIEF PRODUCTS

5 36. Generally, Defendant advertises its Pain Relief Products through 6 misrepresentations and omissions, including but not limited to, claims that the 7 Products:

- 8 • provide “Natural” pain relief when, in fact, the Products contain 9 large portions of non-natural ingredients;
- 10 • provide “On the Spot” pain relief when, in reality, homeopathic 11 products allegedly work by aggravating symptoms initially;
- 12 • are “Proven” or “Clinically Proven” as “Effective” when such 13 clinical proof, if it even exists, consists either of biased studies
14 performed by investigators compensated by Defendant or its parent
15 or subsidiary corporations or studies that fall short of relevant 16 agency advertising standards, facts which are not disclosed to 17 consumers;
- 18 • as being “Doctor Recommended,” “Used By Doctors,” and “Used 19 by Doctors Worldwide,” which is untrue, or even if true, is 20 communicated to the public without disclosing whether these 21 doctors are allopathic practitioners or homeopathic practitioners.

22 A. Traumeel (Ointment, Gel, Tablets, and Oral Solution)

23 37. Through its packaging, Defendant advertises that Traumeel is “Used 24 By Doctors;” “Doctor Recommended;” “Clinically Proven;” “Proven Safe and 25 Effective for Sports Injuries, Sprains, Bruises;” provides “On The Spot Relief;”
26 “Pain Relief That Doesn't Hurt;” “The Natural Science of Pain Relief;” “Pain
27 Relief You Can Feel Good About!;” “Relieves Minor Joint and Muscular Pain, 28

1 Naturally;” “Advanced Relief for Muscular Pain & Joint Pain;” “Advanced Relief
2 for Muscular Pain & Inflammation;” an “Anti-Inflammatory Analgesic;” “consists 3 of 14 natural ingredients;” and is “a safe, effective formula used by doctors
4 worldwide.” Ex. 1.

5 38. In purchasing Traumeel, Plaintiff and consumers reasonably relied 6 upon the various representations Defendant makes on the Product’s packaging 7 label and its prevalent advertising campaign, including online advertising, as 8 described herein. See Ex. 2 for picture of one of Defendant’s web site pages.

9 39. The purportedly active ingredients in the Traumeel Products include:
10 Calendula officinalis 1X, Hamamelis virginiana 1X, Arnica montana, radix 3X,
11 Aconitum napellus 3X, Belladonna 3X, Bellis perennis 1X, Chamommilla 1X,
12 Echinacea 1X, Echinacea purpurea 1X, Millefolium 1X, Hepar sulphuris
13 calcareum 8X, Mercurius solubilis 8X, Symphytum officinale 4X, and Hypericum
14 perforatum 6X. Ex. 3. The inactive ingredients in Traumeel Gel are Carbopol
15 980, Purified Water, Sodium Hydroxide, Ethanol (27% by volume). Id. Traumeel
16 Ointment includes Cetylstearyl alcohol and Ethanol as inactive ingredients as well,
17 both of which are not natural since they are synthetic and/or chemically reduced.
18 See id.

19 40. However, the active ingredients, even if they were otherwise effective, 20 are so greatly diluted as to be effectively non-existent in the Product such that the 21 Product is ineffective for its intended uses.

22 41. The active ingredients used in Traumeel provide no health benefits.
23 Moreover, at the stupendously high dilutions used to prepare the product, the odds
24 are astronomically high that even a single molecule derived from the original 25 “extract” of the “active ingredients” could be present in the Product sold to 26 consumers. As some of the Pain Relief Products are applied externally, most or all 27
28

1 of the purported active ingredients will never permeate the skin due to the 2 exceptionally small amount of active ingredients actually present in the Products.

3 42. Defendant knows there are no or just trace amounts of active
4 ingredients present in the Products and therefore must be aware that the Products
5 cannot relieve any symptoms for which the Defendant advertises them.

6 43. Defendant's Products also contain synthetic ingredients, and therefore 7 do not provide "Natural" pain relief. For example, Ethanol is synthetically
8 produced and, as a major constituent of the Products, its presence means the 9 Products are not "Natural." Carbopol 980, Cetylstearyl alcohol, magnesium 10 stearate, and sodium hydroxide, which make up the remaining major portions of 11 what constitutes the Products, are also not "Natural." See Ex. 3.

12 44. The back of Traumeel Gel package claims it contains "14 natural 13 ingredients." Ex. 1 (language appears upside down). But on the back of the 14 Traumeel X package, which contains the very same 14 ingredients, Defendant 15 admits that some of the same 14 ingredients are actually not natural. Id. (there is 16 no asterisk next to Hepar Sulphuris Calcareum and Mercurius Solubilis, which 17 admits they are not "* Natural Ingredients"). Accordingly, the Products are falsely 18 or deceptively advertised to consumers.

19 45. Defendant's Products also contain non-HPUS ingredients, whereby 20 they are not homeopathic drugs. See id. (Traumeel X package, referring to 21 dilutions of "H" and "N" for chamomile, calendula, and Echinacea, for example).

22 46. Defendant's misleading and deceptive business activity also includes 23 encouraging retailers to sell the Products in the OTC aisle of retail chain drug 24 stores next to allopathic, FDA monograph-approved OTC drugs, thus enhancing 25 consumer confusion as to the true nature of Defendant's Products.

26 47. Defendant does not explain to consumers the nature of homeopathic 27 medicine or the method of measurement used for the ingredients its Products. For 28

1 example, Defendant fails to state what the dilution levels of X, C, K and similar 2 dilution levels mean, in a language understandable to an average consumer.

3 48. Defendant is also free to label Indications of Use without any 4 regulatory oversight, a fact that is not disclosed to consumers.

5 49. In addition, Defendant's Products do not relieve pain, much less,
6 provide "Advanced Relief" for pain. Defendant has even gone so far as to 7 advertise Traumeel by comparing it to anti-inflammatory drugs like ibuprofen
8 (NSAIDs), claiming that Traumeel is faster, more effective, and has no side 9 effects.

10 50. Defendant's Products also do not provide "On The Spot Relief" for 11 pain because homeopathy allegedly works by initially aggravating one's 12 symptoms, a fact that is not disclosed to consumers.

13 51. Defendant's claims are also misleading and false because the Products
14 have not been "Clinically Proven" or "Proven ... Effective" by credible scientific 15 evidence suitable to meet relevant, federal agency advertising standards.

16 52. Similarly, Defendant's claims of "Doctor Recommended," "Used By 17 Doctors," and "used by doctors worldwide" are false and deceptive because they 18 do not meet federal agency endorsement standards. These claims are further false 19 and deceptive because a reasonable consumer is likely to believe the Products are 20 used, endorsed, or recommended by doctors practicing allopathic medicine.
21 Defendant does not distinguish whether the doctors, if any, are homeopathic 22 practitioners or allopathic practitioners.

23 53. The Federal Trade Commission ("FTC") enforces OTC drug
24 advertising and applies the same standards as any consumer product: a 25 "reasonable consumer" standard. The FTC requires OTC drug advertising to be 26 truthful, non-deceptive, fair, and for manufacturers to contain evidence that backs 27 up their claims.

28

1 54. At all times relevant herein, Defendant had a duty to disclose
2 additional information to purchasing consumers, to correct all misunderstandings
3 its omissions and misrepresentations created in the minds of those consumers.

4 55. Traumeel is sold in ointment, gel, tablet, and oral solution (and with a 5 Tablet-ointment combination pack) with prices for each package ranging from 6 $13.49 to $24.99. Hence, Defendant's unfair and deceptive practices have 7 enriched them by millions of dollars, at the expense of tens of thousands of 8 Americans.

9 56. Absent the misrepresentations and omissions described herein, which 10 are material to an average consumer, Plaintiff and other consumers would not have 11 purchased the Traumeel Products.

12 57. In purchasing Products that were falsely or deceptively advertised, 13 Plaintiff suffered injury in fact in the form of the lost purchase price of the 14 Products.

15 58. Plaintiff seeks justice for himself and similarly-situated consumers of 16 Traumeel, by means of this action to enjoin the ongoing deceptive practices
17 described herein.

18 B. Zeel

19 59. Zeel is the Pain Relief Product that Defendant markets primarily 20 toward the older adult; whereas Traumeel is marketed for the younger, more active 21 adult seeking a pain relief product.

22 60. The purportedly active ingredients of Zeel Tablets and Zeel Ointment
23 (together, "Zeel") are: Silicea 6X, Arnica montana, radix 1X, Rhus toxicodendron
24 1X, Sulphur 6X, Sanguinaria canadensis 3X, Cartilago suis 4X, Embryo suis 4X,
25 Runiculus umbilicalis suis 4X, Placenta suis 4X, Dulcamara 2X, Symphytum
26 officinale 8X, alpha-Lipoicum acidum 6X, Coenzyme A 6X, Nadidum 6X, and 27 Natrum oxalaceticum 6X. See Ex. 2. However, the active ingredients, even if they 28

1 were otherwise effective, are so greatly diluted as to be effectively non-existent,
2 such that the Zeel is ineffective for its intended uses. Nevertheless, Defendant
3 claims that the Products contain active ingredients, by gram weight, which will 4 relieve pain.

5 61. Defendant advertises Zeel as a “Doctor Recommended,” “Clinically
6 Proven,” “Advanced Relief for Arthritic Pain & Stiffness,” “Proven ... Effective for 7 Joint Mobility,” “Natural Cox 2 Alternative,” among other representations. Ex. 1.

8 62. In purchasing Zeel, consumers reasonably relied on these and similar 9 claims Defendant made on its Products’ packaging.

10 63. Defendant’s claims are misleading and false because the Products
11 have not been “Proven ... Effective for Joint Mobility” and are not “Clinically 12 Proven” according to scientific evidence suitable to meet relevant federal 13 advertising standards.

14 64. In addition, Defendant’s advertising claim, “Natural Cox 2 15 Alternative,” seeks to take advantage of widely publicized dangers of certain Cox-16 2 inhibitors such as Vioxx and Celebrex. However, Cox-2 is itself natural as it is 17 an enzyme naturally produced by the body and its genes exist in human DNA.
18 Therefore, this language is confusing and deceptive for the consumer.

19 65. Defendant’s claims that the Products are “Doctor Recommended” are 20 false and deceptive for implying a type of and level of physician endorsement that 21 does not exist. For example, in addition to the way Defendant’s market their 22 Products as OTC alternatives, a reasonable consumer is likely to believe the 23 Products are used, endorsed, or recommended by doctors practicing allopathic
24 medicine. Further, Defendant does not distinguish whether the doctors endorsing 25 its Products, if any, are homeopathic practitioners or allopathic practitioners, 26 omitting material information from consumers.

1 66. Further, Defendant's claims are expert endorsements and do not meet
2 the relevant, federal agency expert endorsement standards due to Defendant's 3 misrepresentations and omissions.

4 67. Defendant's representations are also false and deceptive because the 5 Products contain synthetic ingredients and, therefore, do not provide "Natural"
6 pain relief. For example, Zeel contains Coenzyme A, which is a synthetic, as well
7 as Ethanol, Magnesium stearate and Cetylstearyl alcohol, all of which are 8 synthetically made or chemically reduced. Thus, Defendant's repeated use of the 9 word "Natural" implies a quality to the Products that is false and deceptive.

10 68. In addition, Defendant's advertising is false and deceptive because the 11 Products do not relieve pain, much less, provide "Advanced Relief" for arthritic 12 pain and stiffness.

13 69. Defendant's Products are intended to initially aggravate symptoms
14 under the homeopathic principle of the law of similars, a fact that is not disclosed 15 to consumers.

16 70. Defendant's misleading and deceptive business activity includes 17 marketing the Products in the OTC aisle of retail chain drug stores next to 18 allopathic, FDA monograph-approved OTC drugs, thus enhancing consumer
19 confusion as to the true nature of Defendant's Products.

20 71. Defendant also knows there are no or just trace amounts of active 21 ingredients present in Zeel and therefore must be aware that Zeel cannot relieve 22 any symptoms for which Defendant advertises the Product. Zeel's efficacy, if any, 23 is attributable to nothing more than the placebo effect, with zero or a trace of the 24 claimed active ingredients in the Products. As some forms of Zeel are also 25 intended for topical application, there is little to no chance that the minute
26 quantities of the "active ingredients" in the Products, if any, will permeate the skin 27 whereby they can have any effect on pain relief or joint stiffness.

1 72. Zeel is sold in 100-count boxes and 50-gram tubes of ointment. The 2 price is approximately $18.99 per 100-tablet package and $20.99 per 50-gram
3 ointment container. Hence, Defendant' unfair and deceptive practices have 4 enriched them by millions of dollars, at the expense of tens of thousands of 5 Americans.

6 73. At all times relevant herein, Defendant had a duty to disclose
7 additional information to purchasing consumers, to correct all misunderstandings
8 its omissions and misrepresentations created in the minds of those consumers.

9 74. Absent the misrepresentations and omissions described herein, which 10 were material to the average consumer, purchasing consumers would not have 11 purchased Zeel.

12 75. Plaintiff seeks justice for himself and similarly-situated consumers, by 13 means of this action to enjoin the ongoing deceptive practices described herein.

14 C. Allegations as to all Products

15 76. Defendant's marketing and promotion of the Products was supported 16 by false and misleading claims containing material omissions and 17 misrepresentations.

18 77. When purchasing the Products, Plaintiff and the class were seeking 19 pain remedies that would provide the benefits and had the endorsements, proof of 20 efficacy, and characteristics that Defendant marketed, promised, represented and 21 warranted.

22 78. Plaintiff and the class purchased the Products believing they had the 23 qualities they sought, based on the Products' deceptive or false labeling, but the 24 Products were actually unacceptable to them as they did not possess the benefits, 25 endorsements, proof, and characteristics as advertised.

26 79. Moreover, like all reasonable consumers and members of the class, 27 Plaintiff considers a label's compliance with federal law a material factor in his 28

1 purchasing decisions. Plaintiff is generally aware that the federal government
2 carefully regulates OTC products and therefore has come to trust that information
3 conveyed on packaged OTC product labels is truthful, accurate, complete, and 4 fully in accordance and compliance with federal law. As a result, Plaintiff trusts he 5 can compare competing products on the basis of their labeling claims, to make a 6 purchasing decision.

7 80. Like all reasonable consumers and members of the classes, Plaintiff
8 would not purchase an OTC product he knew was misbranded under federal law, 9 see 21 U.S.C. § 343, which the federal government prohibits selling, id. § 331, and 10 which carries with its sale criminal penalties, id. § 333. Plaintiff could not trust 11 that the label of a product misbranded under federal law is truthful, accurate and 12 complete.

13 81. Similarly, like all reasonable consumers and members of the class,
14 Plaintiff would not purchase an OTC product he knew was an illegally marketed
15 new drug for which the FDA has not determined its safety and efficacy.

16 82. In light of the foregoing, reasonable consumers, including Plaintiff
17 and other members of the class, were and are likely to be deceived by Defendant's 18 advertising and marketing practices as detailed herein.

19 83. Further, Plaintiff and other members of the class purchased the 20 Products instead of competing products based on the false statements, 21 misrepresentations and omissions described herein.

22 84. Instead of receiving a product that had the benefits, advantages,
23 endorsements, proof, and characteristics as advertised, Plaintiff and other members 24 of the class received a product worth much less, or which was worthless, since the 25 Products do not work; cause no effect or effects reverse of that advertised; and did 26 not possess the characteristics, benefits, endorsements, and proof of efficacy, as 27 advertised by Defendant.

28

1 85. Plaintiff lost money as a result of Defendant's deception in that 2 Plaintiff did not receive what he had paid for.

3 86. Plaintiff altered his position to his detriment and suffered damages in 4 an amount equal to the amount he paid for the Products over the class period.

5 CLASS ACTION ALLEGATIONS

6 87. Pursuant to Rules 23(a), (b)(3) and/or (b)(2) of the Federal Rules of 7 Civil Procedure, Plaintiff brings this action on behalf of himself and a California
8 consumer class, initially defined as follows:

9 All purchasers of Heel, Inc.'s homeopathic Pain Relief Products,
10 including, but not limited to, Traumeel and Zeel, and all 11 iterations/variations of the aforementioned products, for personal or 12 household use and not for resale, in California from December 21, 13 2008 to the present (the "Class Period"). Excluded from the 14 consumer class are governmental entities, the Defendant, any entity
15 in which the Defendant has a controlling interest, its employees, 16 officers, directors, legal representatives, heirs, successors and wholly 17 or partly owned subsidiaries or affiliated companies, including parent 18 corporations, class counsel and their employees; and the judicial 19 officers and their immediate family members and associated court
20 staff assigned to this case.

21 88. The proposed Class is so numerous that individual joinder of all its 22 members is impracticable. Due to the nature of the trade and commerce involved,
23 however, Plaintiff believes the total number of Class members is at least in the tens
24 of thousands, if not hundreds of thousands of persons in the State of California.
25 While the exact number and identities of the Class members are unknown at this 26 time, such information can be ascertained through appropriate investigation and 27
28

1 discovery. The disposition of the claims of the Class members in a single class
2 action will provide substantial benefits to all parties and to the Court.

3 89. Pursuant to Rule 23(b)(2), Defendant has acted or refused to act on 4 grounds generally applicable to the Class, thereby making final injunctive relief or 5 corresponding declaratory relief and damages as to its Products appropriate with 6 respect to the Class as a whole. In particular, Defendant has failed to disclose the 7 true nature of the Products being marketed and distributed, as detailed herein.

8 90. There is a well-defined community of interest in the questions of law
9 and fact involved affecting the Plaintiff and the Class and these common questions
10 of fact and law include, but are not limited to, the following:

11 a. Whether the claims discussed above are true, misleading, or 12 reasonably likely to deceive;

13 b. Whether Defendant's alleged conduct violates public policy;

14 c. Whether the alleged conduct constitutes violations of the laws
15 asserted herein;

16 d. Whether Defendant engaged in false or misleading advertising;

17 e. Whether the Plaintiff and Class members are entitled to 18 declaratory and injunctive relief.

19 91. Plaintiff's claims are typical of the claims of the members of the Class.
20 Plaintiff and all members of the Class have been similarly affected by the 21 Defendant's common course of conduct since they all relied on Defendant's 22 representations concerning its Products and purchased the Products based on those 23 representations.

24 92. Plaintiff will fairly and adequately represent and protect the interests
25 of the Class. Plaintiff has retained counsel with substantial experience in handling 26 complex class action litigation in general and scientific claims, including for 27 homeopathic drugs, in particular. Plaintiff and his counsel are committed to 28

1 vigorously prosecuting this action on behalf of the Class and have the financial 2 resources to do so.

3 93. Plaintiff and the members of the Class suffered and will continue to 4 suffer harm as a result of the Defendant's unlawful and wrongful conduct. A class
5 action is superior to other available methods for the fair and efficient adjudication
6 of the present controversy. Individual joinder of all members of the Class is 7 impracticable. Even if individual Class members had the resources to pursue 8 individual litigation, it would be unduly burdensome to the courts in which the 9 individual litigation would proceed. Individual litigation magnifies the delay and 10 expense to all parties in the court system of resolving the controversies engendered 11 by Defendant's course of conduct. The class action device allows a single court to 12 provide the benefits of unitary adjudication, judicial economy, and the fair and 13 efficient handling of all Class members' claims in a single forum. The conduct of 14 this action as a class action conserves the resources of the parties and of the 15 judicial system and protects the rights of the class members. Furthermore, for 16 many, if not most, a class action is the only feasible mechanism that allows an 17 opportunity for legal redress and justice.

18 94. Adjudication of individual Class members' claims with respect to the 19 Defendant would, as a practical matter, be dispositive of the interests of other 20 members not parties to the adjudication, and could substantially impair or impede 21 the ability of other class members to protect their interests.

FIRST CAUSE OF ACTION

VIOLATION OF CALIFORNIA’S CONSUMERS LEGAL REMEDIES ACT

California Civil Code §§ 1750, et seq.

(On Behalf of Plaintiff and the Class, as Against Defendant)

95. Plaintiff repeats, realleges and incorporates by reference each and every allegation contained above as if fully set forth herein.

96. This cause of action is brought pursuant to the Consumers Legal Remedies Act, California Civil Code § 1750, et seq. (the “Act”). Plaintiff and the members of the Class are consumers as defined by California Civil Code § 1761(d). The Products are goods within the meaning of the Act.

97. Defendant violated and continue to violate the Act by engaging in the following practices proscribed by California Civil Code §1770(a) in transactions with Plaintiff and the Class which were intended to result in, and did result in, the sale of the Products:

- Representing that [the Products have]...characteristics, ingredients, uses, benefits or quantities which [the Products] do not have. (Civ. Code, § 1770, subd. (a) (5).)

- Representing that [the Products] are of a particular standard, quality or grade... if they are of another. (Civ. Code, § 1770, subd. (a) (7).)

- Advertising [Products] ...with intent not to sell them as advertised. (Civ. Code, § 1770, subd. (a) (9).)

- Representing that [the Products] have been supplied in accordance with a previous representation when it has not. (Civ. Code, § 1770, subd. (a) (16).)

98. Defendant violated the Act by representing through advertising of the Products as described above, when they knew, or should have known, that the representations and advertisements were false or misleading.

1 99. Plaintiff and members of the Class reasonably relied upon the 2 Defendant's representations as to the quality and attributes of the Products.

3 100. Plaintiff and other members of the Class were deceived by 4 Defendant's representations about the quality and attributes of the Products,
5 including but not limited to the purported benefits of the Products, taken as a
6 whole, that their Products provide, inter alia, Defendant advertise their Products
7 are effective in relieving various symptoms and ailments. See Exs. 1-2, for other 8 false claims. Plaintiff and other Class members would not have purchased the 9 Products had they known the Defendant's claims were untrue, and had they known 10 the true nature of the Products.

11 101. Pursuant to section 1782 et seq. of the Act, Plaintiff notified the 12 Defendant in writing by certified mail of the particular violations of § 1770 of the 13 Act as to their Products and demanded the Defendant rectify the problems
14 associated with the actions detailed above and give notice to all affected consumers 15 of its intent to so act. Defendant's wrongful business practices regarding the 16 Products constituted, and constitute, a continuing course of conduct in violation of 17 the California's Consumers Legal Remedies Act since Defendant are still 18 representing that the Products have characteristics, uses, benefits, and abilities 19 which are false and misleading, and have injured Plaintiff and the Class. A copy of 20 Plaintiff's letter is attached as Exhibit 4 hereto.

21 102. Pursuant to California Civil Code § 1780(a), Plaintiff and the Class 22 seek an order of this Court enjoining the Defendant from continuing to engage in 23 unlawful, unfair, or deceptive business practices and any other act prohibited by 24 law.

25 103. Pursuant to California Civil Code § 1782(d), Plaintiff and the Class 26 seek a Court order enjoining the above-described wrongful acts and practices of 27 the Defendant with respect to their Products.

SECOND CAUSE OF ACTION

VIOLATION OF CALIFORNIA UNFAIR COMPETITION LAW

California Business and Professions Code §§ 17200, et seq.

(On Behalf of Plaintiff and the Class, as Against Defendant)

104. Plaintiff repeats, realleges and incorporates by reference each and every allegation contained above as if fully set forth herein.

105. California’s Unfair Competition Law, Business and Professions Code § 17200 (the “UCL”) prohibits any “unfair, deceptive, untrue or misleading advertising.” For the reasons discussed above, Defendant has engaged in unfair, deceptive, untrue and misleading advertising in violation of the UCL.

106. The UCL also prohibits any “unlawful... business act or practice.” Defendant violated the UCL’s prohibition against engaging in unlawful acts and practices by, inter alia, making the representations and omissions of material facts, as set forth more fully herein, and by violating among others, California Civil Code §§ 1572, 1573, 1709, 1710, 1711, 1770, California Health and Safety Code §§ 109875, et seq. (“Sherman Law”), Cal. Bus. & Prof. Code §§ 12601, et seq. (“Fair Packaging and Labeling Act”), California Commercial Code § 2313(1), and the common law. Such conduct is ongoing and continues to this date. See Exs. 2-3.

107. Plaintiff and the Class reserve the right to allege other violations of law which constitute other unlawful business acts or practices.

108. California Business and Professions Code § 17200 also prohibits any “unfair... business act or practice.”

109. Defendant’s acts, omissions, misrepresentations, practices and nondisclosures as alleged herein also constitute “unfair” business acts and practices within the meaning of the UCL in that its conduct is substantially injurious to consumers, offends public policy, and is immoral, unethical, oppressive, and

1 unscrupulous as the gravity of the conduct outweighs any alleged benefits
2 attributable to such conduct. Such conduct is ongoing and continues to this date.

3 110. Plaintiff alleges violations of consumer protection, unfair competition
4 and truth in advertising laws in California and other states resulting in harm to 5 consumers. Plaintiff asserts violation of the public policy of engaging in false and 6 misleading advertising, unfair competition and deceptive conduct towards 7 consumers. This conduct constitutes violations of the unfair prong of the UCL.
8 Such conduct is ongoing and continues to this date.

9 111. There were reasonably available alternatives to further Defendant's 10 legitimate business interests, other than the conduct described herein.

11 112. The UCL also prohibits any "fraudulent business act or practice."

12 113. Defendant's claims, nondisclosures (i.e., omissions), and misleading 13 statements, as more fully set forth above, were false, misleading and/or likely to 14 deceive the consuming public within the meaning of the UCL. Such conduct is 15 ongoing and continues to this date.

16 114. Defendant's conduct caused and continues to cause substantial injury
17 to Plaintiff and the other members of the Class. Plaintiff has suffered injury in fact 18 as a result of Defendant's unfair conduct.

19 115. Defendant has thus engaged in unlawful, unfair and fraudulent
20 business acts and practices and false advertising, entitling Plaintiff to injunctive
21 relief against Defendant, as set forth in the Prayer for Relief.

22 116. Pursuant to Business and Professions Code § 17203, Plaintiff seeks an 23 order requiring Defendant to immediately cease such acts of unlawful, unfair and 24 fraudulent business practices and requiring Defendant to engage in a corrective 25 advertising campaign.

1 117. Plaintiff also seeks an order for the disgorgement and restitution of all
2 monies from the sale of Defendant's Products, which were unjustly acquired
3 through acts of unlawful, unfair, and/or fraudulent competition.

4 THIRD CAUSE OF ACTION

5 VIOLATION OF CALIFORNIA FALSE ADVERTISING LAW

6 California Business and Professions Code §§ 17500, et seq.

7 (On Behalf of Plaintiff and the Class, as Against Defendant)

8 118. Plaintiff repeats, realleges and incorporates by reference each and 9 every allegation contained above as if fully set forth herein.

10 119. Plaintiff has standing to pursue this claim as Plaintiff has suffered 11 injury in fact as a result of Defendant's actions as set forth herein. Specifically, 12 prior to the filing of this action, Plaintiff purchased the Products in reliance upon 13 Defendant's marketing claims. Plaintiff used the Products as directed, but the 14 Products did not work as advertised, nor provided any of the promised benefits.

15 120. Defendant's business practices as alleged herein constitute unfair, 16 deceptive, untrue, and misleading advertising pursuant to California Business and 17 Professions Code §§ 17500, et seq. because Defendant has advertised their 18 Products in a manner that is untrue or misleading, or that is known to Defendant to 19 be untrue or misleading.

20 121. Defendant's wrongful business practices have caused injury to 21 Plaintiff and the Class.

22 122. Pursuant to section 17535 of the California Business and Professions
23 Code, Plaintiff and the Class seek an order of this court enjoining the Defendant 24 from continuing to engage in deceptive business practices, false advertising, and 25 any other act prohibited by law, including those set forth in the complaint.
26
27
28

1 123. Plaintiff also seeks an order for the disgorgement and restitution of all
2 monies from the sale of Defendant's Products, which were unjustly acquired
3 through acts of unlawful, unfair, deceptive and/or fraudulent competition.

4 FOURTH CAUSE OF ACTION

5 BREACH OF EXPRESS WARRANTY

6 (On Behalf of Plaintiff and all Class Members, as Against Defendant)

7 124. Plaintiff repeats, realleges and incorporates by reference each and 8 every allegation contained above as if fully set forth herein.

9 125. On the Products' labels and through their marketing campaign as 10 described above, Defendant made affirmations of fact or promises, or description 11 of goods, which formed "part of the basis of the bargain" at the time of purchase.
12 See Ex. 2, Misrepresentation Chart (containing statement alleged to be warranties).

13 126. The warranties were breached because the Products did not live up to 14 their warranties, and that breach caused injury in the form of the lost purchase 15 price for the Products. See Cal. Com. Code § 2313(1); see also Zwart v. Hewlett-
16 Packard Co., 2011 WL 3740805 (N.D. Cal., Aug. 23, 2011) (holding that online 17 assertions can create warranties).

18 127. As a result of Defendant's breach of their warranties, Plaintiff and the 19 Class have been damaged in the amount of the purchase price of the Products they 20 purchased.

21 FIFTH CAUSE OF ACTION

22 BREACH OF IMPLIED WARRANTY OF MERCHANTABILITY

23 (On Behalf of Plaintiff and the Class, as Against Defendant)

24 128. Plaintiff repeats, realleges and incorporates by reference each and 25 every allegation contained above as if fully set forth herein.

26 129. Defendant, through their acts and omissions as set forth herein, in 27 their sale, marketing and promotion of their Products, made representations to 28

1 Plaintiff and the members of the Class that their Products provide the claimed
2 health benefits, among other representations. See Ex. 2, Misrepresentation Chart.

3 130. Plaintiff and the Class bought the Products manufactured, advertised
4 and sold by Defendant.

5 131. Defendant is a merchant with respect to the goods of this kind which 6 were sold to Plaintiff and the Class, and there was in the sale to Plaintiff and other
7 members of the Class an implied warranty that those goods were merchantable.

8 132. However, Defendant breached that warranty implied in the sale of 9 goods in that their Products do not provide the purported claimed health benefits, 10 as set forth in detail herein.

11 133. As a result of Defendant's conduct, Plaintiff and the Class did not 12 receive goods as impliedly warranted by Defendant to be merchantable in that they 13 did not conform to the promises and affirmations made on the container or label of 14 the goods.

15 134. Plaintiff and the Class have sustained damages as a proximate result 16 of the foregoing breach of implied warranty in an amount to be determined at trial.

17 SIXTH CAUSE OF ACTION

18 VIOLATION OF THE MAGNUSON-MOSS WARRANTY ACT,

19 15 U.S.C. §§ 2301, *et. seq.

20 (On Behalf of Plaintiff and the Class, as Against Defendant)

21 135. Plaintiff repeats, realleges and incorporates by reference each and 22 every allegation contained above as if fully set forth herein.

23 136. Plaintiff brings this claim individually and on behalf of the members 24 of the Class. Plaintiff asserts state law warranty claims arising under the laws of 25 the State of California.

26 137. In addition, Defendant's Products are consumer products as defined in 27 15 U.S.C. § 2301(1).

1 138. Plaintiff and the other Class members are consumers as defined in 15
2 U.S.C. § 2301(3).

3 139. Defendant is a supplier and warrantor as defined in 15 U.S.C. §§ 4 2301(4) and (5).

5 140. In connection with the sale of the Products, Defendant issued written
6 warranties as defined in 15 U.S.C. § 2301(6), which warranted that the Products
7 offer relief from various ailments and symptoms, and possessed certain attributes
8 and qualities, as described herein, when in fact, these Products do not provide 9 relief for any of these ailments or symptoms.

10 141. By breaching the express written warranties as described herein, 11 Defendant violated the statutory rights of Plaintiff and Class members pursuant to 12 the Magnuson-Moss Warranty Act, 15 U.S.C. §§ 2301 et seq., thereby damaging 13 Plaintiff and other Class members.

14 142. Plaintiff notified the Defendant in writing of their claims and that the 15 Plaintiff is acting on behalf of the Classes. See Ex. 4.

16 PRAYER FOR RELIEF

17 143. Wherefore, Plaintiff, on behalf of himself, all others similarly situated 18 and the general public, pray for judgment against the Defendant as to each and 19 every cause of action, including:

- 20 A. An order declaring this action to be a proper Class Action and 21 requiring Defendant to bear the costs of Class notice;
- 22 B. An order awarding declaratory and injunctive relief as permitted
23 by law or equity, including enjoining Defendant from continuing 24 the unlawful practices as set forth herein;
- 25 C. An order awarding restitution and disgorgement of Defendant's
26 revenues from the Products to Plaintiff and the proposed Class
27 members, under the UCL and FAL;
- 28

1 D. An order awarding damages under Plaintiff and the Class’
2 warranty claims for relief;

3 E. An order compelling Defendant to engage in a corrective 4 advertising campaign to inform the public concerning the true
5 nature of their Products;

6 F. An order awarding attorneys’ fees and costs to Plaintiff and the 7 Class;

8 G. An order providing for all other such equitable relief as may be 9 just and proper.

10 JURY DEMAND

11 Plaintiff hereby demands a trial by jury on all issues so triable.
