use this Act in formal objections to EPA's pesticides division. Sadly, FAN lost this fight in the first week of January. FAN continued to pay for professional translations of published reports and studies, mainly from Chinese journals, relating to fluoride's toxicity and association with lowered IQ in children. The latter issue has been the major source of research for FAN in 2013. FAN visited the National Archives and other institutions throughout the US that house collections of fluoride researchers in order to obtain historical documents on fluoride and fluoridation. We are in the process of devising a program to make these documents easily accessible online. FAN produced a new video, "10 Facts About Fluoride", and helped with PSA announcements. FAN hired Bill Hirzy PhD, as science liason and representative in Washington DC. We also added a new program to our website called the StudyTracker. This program allows one to access the published papers on fluoride according to various categories. This has entailed hundreds of hours of work. FAN staff gave press, radio & TV interviews, and have released several press releases. The Director of the Organization traveled widely to give presentations on fluoridation.
