Part III – Statement of Program Service Accomplishments

The Corporation's primary exempt purpose is to research, investigate, analyze and implement ways to provide the health and wellness benefits of the philosophy of Sri K. Pattabhi Jois to primarily underserved students from preschool through high school, to provide the results of such investigation, research, analysis and implementation to the general public, and to encourage the general public to consider, discuss, and comment upon such results and to make other proposals for such consideration, discussion and comment. With an understanding of underserved low-performing communities and the public and private education marketplace, the Corporation will develop programs and relationships with organizations that provide health and wellness services to children, particularly underserved communities.

The primary activity of the Corporation will be to provide grants to public schools (K-12) and other community-based nonprofit organizations across the United States to support the schools' and other organizations' programs to improve the health and wellbeing of their students, with a focus on introducing the underprivileged students the benefits of yoga. Funds may be used to hire a qualified yoga instructor who would co-teach PE/Health classes throughout the year on a schedule developed by the school. Funds may also be used to provide short-term enrichment programs.

Part III – Line 28

The Corporation will provide support in the form of grants to public schools and other community nonprofit organizations which promote the health and well-being of underprivileged students with the goal of increasing academic achievement. No grants will be made to specific individuals.
